THE SEASON AT NEWPORT. POLO, TENNIS AND FOX-HUNTING.

AN ENCOUNTER THAT SET EVERYBODY TALK-

ING-PERSONAL NEWS AND GOSSIP. Newport, R. I., July 21 (Special).-The weather has been all that could be wished for thus far this season, but a few rains would be appreciated now, as the lawns are beginning to look brown. The hotel and boardinghouse keepers are complaining of the cool days, but it is not too cool to suit others. Signs of renewed life are visible on every hand and the summer gayeties are being thoroughly enjoyed.

The pelo grounds are being well attended. The players are in earnest and go right up to the mark in every match. All are provided with first-class prizes and there is a good deal of rivalry, which adds no little interest to the sport. Society always takes

The Casino dances are being poorly patronized this season. The music is all that could be wished for, but the leading cottagers do not attend. It is expected that the present apathy will disappear soon There are a number of young men here and Newport is always blessed with an abundance of young women who are good dancers. The attendance at the ing concerts at the Casino is not what it should be by any means, but great things are expected next month The cottagers seem to have plenty of places to visit besides the Casino, where they would be a drawing

Newport is to have fox hunts minus the fox this season, and Gray Griswold, with Elliott Zborowski, will be in charge of the hounds. Mr. Zborowski is here this season for the first time in five years. He has taken a cottage in John-st. He is a capital polo player but finds that the players here have imp greatly since he played here with J. G. Bennett, William Jay, Fairman Rogers, G. R. Fearing and others. The young men who play polo now are hard to beat and Mr. Zborowski is willing to admit this fact. The fox hunts will take place Monday and Friday afternoons during the season and they will as usual be attended by all who can "follow" the hounds. Hundreds, too, will drive over the dusty roads on the island and say that they enjoy the sport. The seciety with a long name has forbidden the use of foxes; hence the anise bag will be trailed. The polo games will be played every Tuesday. Thursday and Saturday afternoon during the season and there will thus be something to go to almost every day in the week. During the season, too, there will be a parade of the coaches.

The annual meet of the National Lawn Tennis Association will be held at the Casino courts in August. This will bring many needed dollars to the treasury of the Casino and it will also bring many visitors to the cottages, to the hotels and to the private boarding houses. A local lawn tennis club is also anticipating a season of rare sport, and the juvenile polo players will have several matches on the grounds of the chester Polo Club. The yacht squadron will be here in August and there will be the usual races. Taking it altogether Newport will not be a dull place from now until the latter part of September.

Everybody has had something to talk gossip about this week. John Whipple, a son-in-law of Governor Thomas Swann, of Maryland, said that John Lawrence a governor of the Union Club of New-York, called him a flar. Mr. Lawrence denies the impeachment. Mr. Whipple assaulted Mr. Lawrence in Bellevue-ave and was arrested and fined $10 and costs, while his partner, Richard C. Derby, who was with him when he committed the assault, was fined $5 and costs. The fines and costs were promptly paid. No complaint was made to the authorities either by Mr. Lawrence or by any of his friends. It was from any point of view a most deplorable affair. No one seems to blame Mr. Lawrence, who is reported as being a peaceful, law-abiding citizen, popular in society. Mr. Whipple thinks that he was fully justified in resenting the insult and he is willing to take the consequences. are of the opinion that the end of the quarrel has not been reached.

Streams and springs were dry ing up, noisy cataracts began to subside into tiny rivulets and the bubbling brooklets lottered hesitatingly in little pebbled pools here and there. Everybody and everything wanted and needed rain, so on Thursday the showers began to fall, and now the air is most delightful and everybody is happier.

This hotel presents a brilliant scene to-night. It is not full, of course; it rarely has over 800 guests in July. August always brings hundreds more. But a walk through the rotanda, the pariers and out over the broad plaza in front shows many distinguished and fashionable visitors, representing various walks of life. The talented Gernia Orchestra is discoursing good music artistically, ests from late trains are writing in the big register and conferring with the handsome room clerk. Later in th the regular hop is in full progress under the ctric lights in the hotel opera hall. And it is past midnight before quiet reigns in and about this big hotel.

On Tuesday afternoon the children gave a pleasant series of tableaus in the Opera House under the direction of Mrs. John F. Buike, at which $47.31 was collected for the Fresh-Air Fund. In the evening George Riddle gave a reading for his own benefit. He says next to Bar Har bor Kaalerskill is the most profitable summer resort for him to visit. SUING THE PROVIDENT BOOK COMPANY. The firm of D. Appleton & Co. began a suit yester-day, in the United States Circuit Court, against the Provident Book Company, asking for an injunction for-bidding the publication by the defendant of the volume entitled "The Holy Land and the Bible." The complainants say that in 1882 they sent out Harry Fenn Woodward, artists, and paid their expense and those of their attendants for nine months, on a trip to the scenes of Bible history. The artists gathered Hustrations for "Picturesque Palestine, Sinal and Egypt." The complainants say that 194 of these illustrations were reproduced without authority in the volume published by the Provident Book Company. The complaint does not call for the payment of damage cause, it is alleged, the Provident Book Company has

THE INSANE PATIENTS SAFE.

DR. MACDONALD'S REPORT ON SMALLPOX. THERE HAVE BEEN FIVE MILD CASES AND EVERY

PRECAUTION HAS BEEN TAKEN. In view of the unfavorable reports which have been ade of the condition of Ward's Island and the prevalence of smallpox in the Insane Asylum there, ident Brennan, of the Department of Charities and Correction, directed Dr. Macdonald to make a special report to the Board on the subject. The report says that the published statements have been greatly exaggerated. There has been no smallpox in the mild forms of varioloid, to which persons who have been vaccinated are liable. Dr. Macdonald said in part:

Having been directed by your Board, in view of exting misapprehension and misstatement regarding the ecent occurrence of cases of smallpox in the Ward's island Asylum, to forward a brief statement of the facts,

I have the honer to report as follows:

On June 27 John Brogan, a patient in ward No. 21, presented symptoms indicating the presence of smallpex, and the suspicion having been confirmed after observation he was, on the 20th, transferred to the care of the Board of Health, at their hospital, on North Brother Island. Upon July 9 Patrick Devine, an attendant upon the same ward, developed similar symptoms, and was, after similar observation and confirmation, transferred to after similar observation and confirmation, transferred to the same hospital on July 12. Upon the mornings of the 13th and 14th respectively, John Moran and Bartholomew Queenin presented these symptoms and were transferred on the afternoons of those days. On the evening of the 14th Adolph Thurstons, a patient, again of ward No. 21. was placed under observation, and on the afternoon of the 17th, the presence of smallpox having been determined, followed the others to the hospital upon North Brother Island. One attendant and four patients, five persons in all, complete the number of cases of smallpox which have occurred in the Ward's Island Asylum, among the officers, employes and inmates generally. They were all residents of the same ward-ward No. 21-had the disease in the modified form following vaccination or other protective measures, and, as I learn from the officers in charge of the hospital of which they are inmates, are progressing favorably, no doubt is entertained of their recovery. CORRUPTION AT THE NAVY YARD.

FRAUDS DISCOVERED BY THE INVESTIGATION-AN ARREST YESTERDAY AND MORE TO FOLLOW.

The investigation of the Navy Yard frauds promise to disclose a great deal of corruption and rottenness. Another arrest was made vesterday morning and several others are likely to follow during the next few Three days ago Thomas Shay, one of the head clerks, was examined by the officials sent from Washington to conduct the investigations in regard to goods eing sent secretly out of the stores. He denied that Lawton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lotz, B. E. Lorenz such practices had ever been carried on. On Friday he gave an expressman a barrel said to contain crackers, which was to be delivered at a restaurant in this city. At the restaurant the man was asked t carry the barrel dewnstairs. It was exceedingly heavy for a barrel of crackers, and in taking it down the states the expressman let it fall. It struck on one of the stone steps, bursting open and turning out, not crackers, but bacon. The expressman told the shay was immediately arrested. He said that he had no knowledge of the contents of the barrel, and was acting under orders from one of the heads of his department when he gave the barrel to the expressman.

A prominent official at the Navy Yard, when seen by a reporter, preferred to say nothing about the in vestigation beyond the fact that there was widespread corruption in the stores, and that a great many covincing facts had been brought to light which th success of the investigation demanded should be kept secret for the present. General Storckeeper Loomis was found in his office, greatly disturbed over the new arrest. He said that he did not know what to make of the whole matter. From the facts recently discovered there could be no doubt that the depart uent was and had been for some time going on in a bad way. The investigation was conducted with so much secreey that he himself knew very little of it. He was satisfied that Marshal Stafford and the Washngton officials were on the track of the right men, and that the whole matter would be cleared up in a few

By a visit to Marshal Stafford's office it was learned that three more arrests were to be mate as soon as it seemed best to the officials from Washington. Marshal stafford talked freely on all that had been done as yet. He had had a long conference, however, on the night before, with the Washington men, and they had decided to keep absolute slience about the steps to be taken in the near future. "I can assure you, though," he added, "that you will see some startling developments early in the week. We have discovered beyond a doubt that there is a great deal of corruption both among the lower employes and among several of the heads of the departments. The frauds and peculations already discovered aggregate large sums, and we have scarcely made a beginning as yet." that three more arrests were to be mate as soon as it

AN OLD AUCTIONEER'S ACTIVE LIFE.

IN CONDUCTOR OF MANY IMPORTANT SALES-WIDELY AND WELL KNOWN.

John H. Draper, who is familiar to old New-Yorkers as the auctioneer in many remarkable sales, recently discontinued his business in Front-st., and is now associated with C. F. Wetmore, at No. 240 Fifth-Mr. Draper is one of the best-known auctioneers in New-York. He is almost as well known as his father, Horace Greeley's friend, was before him. He started in his profession, as he told a Tribune re-porter yesterday, thirty years ago. With George T. Kelloch, he formed the firm of John Draper & Co., in 1863. The office was at No. 112 Pearl-st. For twelve or thirteer years Mr. Draper conducted the coal auction sales 112 which used to be monthly events in New-York. Many of these sales were on a large scale. Mr. Draper has sold from 125,000 to 500,000 tons of coal at one sale. Mr. Draper conducted many of his most notable sales after his removal to Nos. 85 and 87 Front-st., and he sold the first night boxes and seats for Sarah Bernhardt, Mrs. Langtry, Mrs. Potter the new Broadway Theatre, all occasions which created a great demand, and secured enormous prices from those who wanted to be in the audience. sale of seats for the recent Wallack benefit was, Mr. Draper thinks, the largest theatrical sale he ever conducted. Pictures and collections of curiosities of all sorts have from time to time been converted into cash under Mr. Draper's hammer. The greatest sale of pictures which he remembers is that of the J. C. Runkle collection. Mr. Draper, in spite of his thirty years' experience of hard work, is still a vigorous man, tall, well built and in the prime of life opera glass. The idea grew from the popularity of

THE WILD WEST TO APPEAR IN OTHER CITIES. Although the season is at its height with Buffalo Bill and his Wild West at Erastina, Staten Island, the management announce the last weeks of the exhibition. An early departure is imperative, as arrangements have been made before leaving for England for the appearance of the exhibition in Philadelphia and other It was originally intended to stay or Staten Island only four weeks; the success, however, was so marked that a supplementary season was decided It will be impossible for Colonel Cody and his Indians and cowboys to remain much longer, and those should seize the remaining opportunities and novel entertainment than the Wild West. The children, especially, will regret its early departure. Its merits will insure its prosperity in all the large cities of the country, as on Staten Island for two seasons. Colonel Cody and his partner, Nate Salsbury, have established themselves among the Islanders as prime favorites, as, indeed, have all the members of the company, and the good wishes of many people will follow them when they take their final leave. The books of the treasurer show that up to date nearly half a million people passed through the gates, a record never before made by any exhibition in this neigh-

A PLEASANT WAY TO THE SHORE RESORTS. What Coney Island was years ago, when there wer no big hotels, no railroads, no ocean piers and no Iron Steambeat Company to run a fleet of sea-going steamers present generation remember. The Coney Island of to-day includes so much, with Manhattan Beach, Brighton Beach and the West End, that the travel is constant and the necessity for accommodations requires various means of transportation. To those who desire to avoid the change from boat to cars and who wish the enjoyment of sea air while on the way, with a gimpse of the island at its best showing, the all-water route by the Iron Steamboats specially commends itself.

THE ACTS OF ACTORS.

WHAT PLAYS WILL BE PLACED ON THE STAGE IN THIS CITY.

Miss Ellsler's original season, which was to cover our weeks, has been extended two weeks in addition and on Saturday "Judge Not," Frank Harvey's de mestic drama in four acts will succeed "The Keep sake," which will then have run the time originally allotted. Miss Elisler's part is one which is then to be quite in the line of work in which she has h most successful and she has strong hopes of success.
Some new engagements have been made for "Judge Not," among which are Madame Ponisi and Helen Bancroft. Several of the present cast of "The Reep-sake" will also remain, notably Mr. Bangs, Mr. Vanderfelt, Mr. Weston and Mrs. Jackson. Mr. Palmer has had the play in his possession for some time but has had no one specially fitted for the principal part; and it was with a partial view to this produc-tion that he originally arranged with Miss Elisier tion that he originally arranged for a summer season at his theatre. The presentation of Ben Teal. During the run of "The Old Homestead" at the Academy, which will begin on August 30, the management of that house will make a special bid for subusban patronage. To attain successful results in this direction, the details of the work have been in progress for the last three months. The Academy and "The Old Homestead" will be "billed" in no less than 215 towns and cities, reaching Chicago, Washington, St. Louis and Cincinnati. Advertisements will be inserted in over 300 newspapers outside of this city, and arrangements have been already completed with various railroads whereby the residents of suburban towns can purchase their seats for the play from the station agents of their towns. From its immense seating capacity and for the popularity of the play, no other theatre in the city is as well adapted for work.

The "Mikado" will be played all this week as Terrace Garden by Manager Amberg's Thalia Theatre Company.

H. C. Bunner's clever story of the cyclorams of Gettysburg in "The Century" for July has been widely read and admired, but J. M. Hill says that there has neve, been anybody but a veteran soldier hired to lecture at that interesting exhibition.

The J. C. Duff Opera Company will revive "The Queen's Mate" at the Broadway Theatre on Monday evening, August 13. Manager Sanger promises that the revival will excel, in completeness, the original production. Mr. Paulton is now writing a new topical song, which will be introduced in the open There will be several changes in the cast tending to strengthen it and make it more attractive.

For the seventy-fifth performance of "Nadiy" at the Casino, Monday evering, July 30, Rudolph Aronson is making elaborate preparations. The house will be prettily decorated with flowers and plants, new costumes will be worn by the ballet in the second act and new songs and topical verses will be interpolated by the principals. The programme for the roof garden concert that evening will be composed of entirely new selections just received from Europe. Chassargne, the composer of "Nadly," has just for warded to Rudolph Aronson and Jesse Williams letters of thanks for the conscientious and painstaking manner in which they, together with the principals, chorus and musicians, labored for the success of the operetta.

There will be no change of programme for some time to come at Wallack's. Strauss's jolly " Prince Methusa lem" appears to have captured the popular taste to such an extent that the opera is good for a long run. In fact attendance at this theatre. Colonel McCaull's company is a stock company, and comprising it are many artists, so that when casting an opera he is able to select from a large list and to choose those who are most capable for the different roles. TWO SMALL IMMIGRANTS.

Among the arrivals at Castle Garden yesterday were two little girls, who were placed under the care of Clerk Van Duzen. Their names are Mary and Nors Sullivan. They were sent to New York by their grand-mother, from Ireland, on the steamship Adriatio. Their passage was paid by their father, Patrick Sullivan, who has been in America nine years. No one was at the Garden when they arrived yesterday, and
